CAPTIVATING SPLENDOR

Hess Landscape Architects works with the region's top architects, interior designers, and engineers to provide clients with amazing backyards that reflect their own sophisticated styles. Founding Principal Chuck Hess achieves this by listening—to every member of the design and construction team, the homeowners, as well as his own instincts. His end goal for each project is to not simply meet client expectations, but to surpass them. “We strive to craft unique spaces tailored to each client's tastes and to each site's singular needs,” says Hess. “We feel very fortunate to work with the area's finest craftsmen and artisans, and we take great satisfaction in managing a job from start to finish, either collaboratively or as the primary consultant.”

Hess manages firm operations and also is lead-designer, taking an active role on all projects. He has nurtured his skills for over 20 years by completing substantial residential commissions throughout the Northeast and internationally. The diverse variety of scales in which Chuck has practiced landscape architecture inform his methods, enabling design consensus between dynamic, visionary analysis and holistic, cogent sensibility. ✨

ABOVE: Remnant garden elements of yesteryear as well as antiques are combined seamlessly into the landscape.

RIGHT: Broad stone steps allow the close-cut lawn to spill down to a formal green “rug” which surrounds the classically-shaped swimming pool. The space is further framed by matching stone walls and layers of diverse plantings.

OPPOSITE PAGE: A circular spa is the focus of an intimate scale garden room, with woodland plantings, informal stone paving, and a small seating area.

ABOVE: Greek columns support the custom arbor above a dining terrace. Paving materials, furnishings, terracotta containers, and the antique fountain piece all evoke European elegance and timeless quality.

RIGHT: Sequentially blooming perennials and annuals combine with time-honored trees and shrubs to create an indulgent bouquet of florae in this traditional cutting garden.
